Journal Of Human Evolution:

Journal of Human Evolution ,1989     Human Evolution Camilo J. Cela-Conde,Francisco J. Ayala,2007-09-27 Human Evolution provides a comprehensive overview of hominid evolution synthesising data and approaches from fields as diverse as physical anthropology evolutionary biology molecular biology genetics archaeology psychology and philosophy The book starts with chapters on evolution population genetics systematics and the methods for constructing evolutionary trees These are followed by a comprehensive review of the fossil history of human evolution since our divergence from the apes Subsequent chapters cover more recent data both fossil and molecular relating to the evolution of modern humans A final section describes the evolution of culture language art and morality The authors are leading experts in two complementary fields of scholarship physical anthropology and molecular evolution Throughout the book they successfully integrate their expertise in evolutionary theory phylogenetics genomics cultural evolution language aesthetics and morality to produce a cutting edge textbook copiously illustrated and with an extensive and up to date bibliography It will be suitable for both senior undergraduate and graduate level students taking courses on human evolution within departments of biology anthropology psychology and philosophy The book will also appeal to a more general audience seeking a readable up to date and inclusive treatment of human origins and evolution     Rethinking Human Evolution Jeffrey H. Schwartz,2018-02-02

Contributors from a range of disciplines consider the disconnect between human evolutionary studies and the rest of evolutionary biology The study of human evolution often seems to rely on scenarios and received wisdom rather than theory and methodology with each new fossil or molecular analysis interpreted as supporting evidence for the presumed lineage of human ancestry We might wonder why we should pursue new inquiries if we already know the story Is paleoanthropology an evolutionary science Are analyses of human evolution biological In this volume contributors from disciplines that range from paleoanthropology to philosophy of science consider the disconnect between human evolutionary studies and the rest of evolutionary biology All of the contributors reflect on their own research and its disciplinary context considering how their fields of inquiry can move forward in new ways The goal is to encourage a more multifaceted intellectual environment for the understanding of human evolution Topics discussed include paleoanthropology s history of procedural idiosyncrasies the role of mind and society in our evolutionary past humans as large mammals rather than a special case genomic analyses computational approaches to phylogenetic reconstruction descriptive morphology versus morphometrics and integrating insights from archaeology into the interpretation of human fossils Contributors Markus Bastir Fred L Bookstein Claudine Cohen Richard G Delisle Robin Dennell Rob DeSalle John de Vos Emma M Finestone Huw S Groucutt Gabriele A Macho Fabrizio Mc Manus Apurva Narechania Michael D Petraglia Thomas W Plummer J W F Reumer Jeff Rosenfeld Jeffrey H Schwartz Dietrich Stout Ian Tattersall Alan R Templeton Michael Tessler Peter J Waddell Martine Zilversmit     Human Evolution and the Origins of Hierarchies Benoît Dubreuil,2010-09-06 In this book Beno t Dubreuil explores the creation and destruction of hierarchies in human evolution Combining the methods of archaeology anthropology cognitive neuroscience and primatology he offers a natural history of hierarchies from the point of view of both cultural and biological evolution This volume explains why dominance hierarchies typical of primate societies disappeared in the human lineage and why the emergence of large scale societies during the Neolithic period implied increased social differentiation the creation of status hierarchies and eventually political centralisation Hominin Postcranial Remains from Sterkfontein, South Africa, 1936-1995 Bernhard Zipfel,Brian G. Richmond,Carol V. Ward,2020-05-07 This volume is the first source to present an in depth analysis of postcranial fossils allowing readers to cross compare standardized data for themselves

Muller,Richard W. Wrangham,David R. Pilbeam,2017-11-27 Knowledge of wild chimpanzees has expanded dramatically This volume edited by Martin Muller Richard Wrangham and David Pilbeam brings together scientists who are leading a revolution to discover and explain human uniqueness by studying our closest living relatives Their conclusions may transform our understanding of human evolution    Interchange ,1978    Journal of Anthropological Research ,2021    Human Evolution John H. Langdon,2023-01-01 This is an introductory textbook for the study of human evolution and covers all major topics of human origins taught under paleoanthropology anthropology archaeology and evolutionary biology courses This book differs from the existing selection of textbooks in the following ways It incorporates the most recent fossil discoveries and interpretations It balances the discussion between descriptions of fossils and interpretations of behavior of hominins in different time periods It includes current findings of genomics into understanding the more recent stages of human evolution This important subdiscipline is badly underserved by current texts It consistently addresses the relationship of evidence to our current hypotheses and interpretations The book has an engaging and lucid style suitable for those entering the field Students will find ample case studies illustrations and examples helpful in understanding difficult concepts Tables timelines and maps in every chapter include data summaries and key points The book highlights peripheral points and background concepts in side boxes for easy reference and lists key ideas at the end of each chapter This up to date and easy to read text is suitable for both classroom study and self learning    Understanding Human Evolution Jeffrey K. McKee,2015-10-16 For the one term course in human evolution paleoanthropology or fossil hominins taught at the junior senior level in departments of anthropology or biology This new edition provides a comprehensive overview to the field of paleoanthropology the study of human evolution by analyzing fossil remains It includes the latest fossil finds attempts to place humans into the context of geological and biological change on the planet and presents current controversies in an even handed manner    Apes and Human Evolution Russell H. Tuttle,2014-02-17 Russell Tuttle synthesizes a vast literature in primate evolution and behavior to explain how apes and humans evolved in relation to one another and why humans became a bipedal tool making culture inventing species distinct from other hominoids He refutes the theory that we are sophisticated instinctively aggressive and destructive killer apes    Journal of Archaeological Science Society for Archaeological Sciences (U.S.),1998

Companion to Human Evolution Sally McBrearty,2014-01-08 The anthology Companion to Human Evolution features original articles on topics drawn from the entire scope of human evolution The book presents alternate points of view from those of scientists engaged in specific aspects of research and introduces students to the varying perspectives of those who study and reflect on human evolution The material addresses both the theoretical basis and the fossil record of evolution Beginning with an overview of living primates and early fossil primates the text then moves through the earliest hominins Australopithecines Homo erectus Neanderthals and early Homo sapiens Specific topics include skeletal morphology climatic adaptation the evolution of walking and dietary changes over time Through short topical accessible chapters Companion to Human Evolution effectively familiarizes readers with diverse views that enrich and enhance material typically covered in courses on the subject It serves as an excellent supplemental reader to standard textbooks Sally McBrearty earned her Ph D at the University of Illinois Urbana Dr McBrearty is a professor and head of the Department of Anthropology at the University of Connecticut Storrs A noted archaeologist she has directed field projects in East Africa for more than 25 years Her professional writing has appeared in Nature and the Journal of Human Evolution among others Her work has been supported by the National Science Foundation the National Geographic Society and the L S B Leakey Foundation In 2007 Dr McBrearty was elected a fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science

Human Evolution

Robin Dunbar,2014-05-01 What makes us human How did we develop language thought and culture Why did we survive and other human species fail The past 12 000 years represent the only time in the sweep of human history when there has been only one human species How did this extraordinary proliferation of species come about and then go extinct And why did we emerge such intellectual giants The tale of our origins has inevitably been told through the stones and bones of the archaeological record yet Robin Dunbar shows it was our social and cognitive changes rather than our physical development which truly made us distinct from other species

The Evolution of Human Life History

Kristen Hawkes,Richard R. Paine,2006 Human beings may share 98 percent of their genetic makeup with their nonhuman primate cousins but they have distinctive life histories When and why did these uniquely human patterns evolve To answer that question this volume brings together specialists in hunter gatherer behavioral ecology and demography human growth development and nutrition paleodemography human paleontology primatology and the genomics of aging The contributors identify and explain the peculiar features of human life histories such as the rate and timing of processes that directly influence survival and reproduction Drawing on new evidence from paleoanthropology they question existing arguments that link human s extended childhood dependency and long post reproductive lives to brain development learning and distinctively human social structures The volume reviews alternative explanations for the distinctiveness of human life history and incorporates multiple lines of evidence in order to test them

The Story of the Human Body

Daniel E. Lieberman,2014-07-01 A landmark book of popular science that gives us a lucid and engaging account of how the human body evolved over millions of years with charts and line drawings throughout Fascinating A readable introduction to the whole field and great on the making of our physicality Nature In this book Daniel E Lieberman illuminates the major transformations that contributed to key adaptations to the body the rise of bipedalism the shift to a non fruit based diet the advent of hunting and gathering and how cultural changes like the Agricultural and Industrial Revolutions have impacted us physically He shows how the increasing disparity between the jumble of adaptations in our Stone Age bodies and advancements in the modern world is occasioning a paradox greater longevity but increased chronic disease And finally provocatively he advocates the use of evolutionary information to help nudge push and sometimes even compel us to create a more salubrious environment and pursue better lifestyles

Dental Perspectives on Human Evolution

Shara E. Bailey,Jean-Jacques Hublin,2007-08-20 The objective of the volume is to bring together in one collection the most innovative dental anthropological research as it pertains to the study of hominid evolution. In the past few decades both the numbers of hominid dental fossils and the sophistication of the techniques used to analyze them have increased substantially. The book's contributions focus on dental morphometrics, growth and development, diet and dental evolution.
