Paying for the Past Richard S. Frase,Julian V. Roberts,2019-07-15 Paying for the Past examines the neglected but critically important topic of sentence enhancements based on prior convictions in the United States Most sentenced offenders have a prior record and in many cases that record carries more weight at sentencing than the new crime being punished Drawing on empirical data and rules from a number of jurisdictions Richard S Frase and Julian V Roberts assess the use of prior record enhancements their justification and how they contribute to racial disparities and mass incarceration

The Changing Role of Criminal Law in Controlling Corporate Behavior James M. Anderson, Ivan Waggoner, 2014-12-09 What should be the role of the criminal law in controlling corporate behavior and how can the execution of that role be improved On the one hand corporations have enormous power and when a corporation causes harm there is a natural instinct to apply criminal sanctions society's most serious expression of moral disapproval In the wake of a harm in which a corporation had a prominent role there are often calls for an increased use of the criminal law to tame corporate excesses On the other hand criminal liability has historically usually required criminal intent a concept that applies oddly to a legal construction such as a corporation And more recently critics have decried what they have termed the overcriminalization of corporate behavior suggesting that there has been an overreliance on the use of criminal law in this context To provide guidance to policymakers on the proper role of criminal sanctions in this context RAND Corporation researchers 1 measure the current use of criminal sanctions in controlling corporate behavior 2 describe how the current regime developed and 3 offer suggestions about how the use of criminal sanctions to control corporate behavior might be improved Unedited summary from book cover United States Sentencing Commission Guidelines Manual United States Sentencing Commission, 2014 United States of America V.
