Administration (NASA),2018-07-25 The circuit presented is simple and small enough to be included in a typical battery charge power control assembly yet provides the advantage of a complete ground type battery reconditioning discharge Test results on the circuit when used to recondition two 24 cell 20 A h nickel cadmium batteries are given These results show that a battery reconditioned with this circuit returns to greater than 90 percent of its original capacity greater than nameplate capacity and follows a typical new battery degradation curve even after over 20 000 simulated orbital cycles for a 4 year period Applications of the circuit are considered along with recommendations relative to its use Its application in low voltage 22 to 36 Vdc power systems and in high voltage 100 to 150 Vdc power systems is discussed The implications are that the high voltage systems have a greater need for battery reconditioning than their low voltage counterparts and that using these circuit techniques the expected life of a battery in low Earth orbit can be up to 5 years Lanier R Marshall Space Flight Center NASA TN D 8508 M 221    Maintenance Manual Exide Nickel-cadmium Batteries in Diesel Locomotive Service Electric
