L'Image Dans L'histoire De La Formation Des Adultes:

L'image dans l'histoire de la formation des adultes Françoise Laot, 2010-11-01 Si l'image en tant qu'outil pédagogique a souvent fait l'objet de discussions sur son utilisation dans l'histoire de l'éducation, il est plus rarement étudié et c'est alors plutôt l'enfant qui est placé au centre des analyses. Cet ouvrage présente une variété de pratiques se basant sur l'image dans la formation des adultes, la lanterne magique dans les cours du soir au XIXe siècle, le cinéma, le ducateur dans l'entre-deux-guerres, la bande dessinée et tant d'autres comme support d'alphabétisation ou plus récemment les outils multimédia dans la formation professionnelle.

Gender in Learning and Teaching Carol A. Taylor, Chantal Amade-Escot, Andrea Abbas, 2019-04-26. Gender in Learning and Teaching brings together leading gender and feminist scholars to provide a unique collection of international research into learning and teaching. Through dialogues across national traditions and boundaries, the authors provide new insights into the relations between feminist scholarship of pedagogy, gender and didactics and offer in-depth accounts that critically investigate how gender relations are enacted, contested and analysed at the level of the classroom, the curriculum and the institution. Drawing on original research, the chapters explore gender dynamics in relation to student-teacher interactions, gendered classroom practices, curriculum content and knowledge formation in different subjects. The book includes accounts of innovative approaches to curriculum development to address gender inequality. It includes new theoretical frameworks and methodological approaches which provide fresh insights into gendered practices, including intersectionality, new material feminism, epistemic gender positioning and cultural anthropology. The chapters span all education phases from early years to higher education. This book makes a compelling case for the continuing relevance of feminist pedagogy and the urgent need for strategies to address gender inequalities in the classroom and beyond. It will be of great interest to academics and postgraduate students in the fields of theory, philosophy and feminist politics of learning and teaching, education and didactics, feminism and pedagogy, sociology and the arts.

Quand l'image (dé)mobilise Bénédicte Rochet, Ludo Bettens, Florence Gillet, Christine Machiels, Anne Roekens, 2015-11-10. L'image peut-elle être acteur de la mobilisation ou de la dé-mobilisation pour les mouvements sociaux au XXe siècle ? Traversées par de nombreux types de cas et de supports aussi variés que des affiches, des journaux, des photographies, des tableaux ou des documents audiovisuels, les contributions de cet ouvrage dévoilent les images produites par les mouvements contestataires eux-mêmes et celles produites sur ces mouvements, qu'elles appartiennent au registre journalistique ou artistique. Le présent ouvrage est le fruit du colloque international organisé en mars 2014 par le groupe de recherche Hisi (Histoire, Sons et Images) de l'Université de Namur en partenariat avec le Centre d'animation et de recherche en histoire ouverte et populaire (Carhop), le Centre d'Etudes et de Documentation Guerre et Sociétés contemporaines (CegeSoma) et l'Institut d'histoire ouverte, économique et sociale (IHOES). Il rassemble les contributions d'une dizaine de chercheurs d'universités et d'institutions scientifiques qui démontrent la diversité des usages et des fonctions de l'image dans le processus de dé-mobilisation collective. World Guide to Libraries Helga Lengenfelder, 1987 Bulletin signalétique, 1985 The Place of Work in African Childhoods Michael Bourdillon, M. Mutambwa, 2015-10-19 This book is about how work enters and affects the lives of children in Africa taking for granted neither the traditional values surrounding childrens work nor the international standards against it Many African societies nurture their children on the ingrained notion that children must work as part of their process of growing up Children participate in their families and communities through the work they do in the house and in whatever else their families do Such views are however antithetical to the dominant views in Europe and North America which see childhood as a time of freedom from responsibility and economic activity These views have become so popular with the elites in other countries to the extent that they now drive international campaigns against child labour and have been incorporated into what are now considered universal international standards and conventions This book was conceived within the framework of the CODESRIA tradition of taking African perspectives seriously and not allowing social research in Africa to become subservient to values from outside African scholars remain keenly aware of the need not to isolate themselves from developments in the wider world which could lead to stagnation This book through empirical observation of the lives of African children the work they do its place in their lives and what the children say about it proposes new perspectives towards a new understanding of this complex stage of human development Work is not simply about the right to income work provides identity and status in society and participation in the community People relate to one another through work Those who do not work are often without status and are at the periphery of society One of the major ways in which this book differs from most of the available literature is in the understanding it brings to the problem of child labour There are economic reasons why children may need an income of their own There is the demographic fact that the proportion of children to adults in low income countries is nearly double that in high income societies This book attempts to demonstrate that work is both necessary and beneficial in terms of a childs development to become a full responsible and respectable member of society
