Marriage and Violence Frances E. Dolan, 2010-11-24 Marriage is often described as a melding of two people into one But what or who must be lost fragmented or buried in that process We have inherited a model of marriage so flawed Frances E Dolan contends that its logical consequence is conflict Dolan ranges over sixteenth and seventeenth century Puritan advice literature sensational accounts of true crime and late twentieth century marriage manuals and films about battered women who kill their abusers She reads the inevitable Taming of the Shrew against William Byrd's diary of life on his Virginia plantation Noel Coward's Private Lives and Barbara Ehrenreich's assessment in Nickel and Dimed of the relationship between marriage and housework She traces the connections between Phillippa Gregory's best selling novel The Other Boleyn Girl and documents about Anne Boleyn's fatal marriage and her daughter Elizabeth I's much debated virginity By contrasting depictions of marriage in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries and our own time she shows that the early modern apprehension of marriage as an economy of scarcity continues to haunt the present in the form of a conceptual structure that can accommodate only one fully developed person When two fractious individuals assert their conflicting wills resolution can be achieved only when one spouse absorbs subordinates or eliminates the other In an era when marriage remains hotly contested this book draws our attention to one of the histories that bears on the present a history in which marriage promises both intimate connection and fierce conflict both companionship and competition

Constructing a World Martha Tuck Rozett, 2012-02-01 Taking its title from Umberto Eco's postscript to The Name of the Rose the novel that inaugurated the New Historical Fiction in the early 1980s Constructing the World provides a guide to the genre's defining characteristics It also serves as a lively account of the way Shakespeare Marlowe

Raleigh Queen Elizabeth I and their contemporaries have been depicted by such writers as Anthony Burgess George Garrett Patricia Finney Barry Unsworth and Rosalind Miles Innovative historical novels written during the past two or three decades have transformed the genre producing some extraordinary bestsellers as well as less widely read serious fiction Shakespearean scholar Martha Tuck Rozett engages in an ongoing conversation about the genre of historical fiction drawing attention to the metacommentary contained in Afterwords or Historical Notes the imaginative reconstruction of the diction and mentality of the past the way Shakespearean phrases names and themes are appropriated and the counterfactual scenarios writers invent as they reinvent the past
