This new colour edition has been updated to conform to the revised FCE specifications Progress in Cryptology - INDOCRYPT 2000 Bimal Kumar Roy,Eiji Okamoto,2003-07-31 The field of Cryptology witnessed a revolution in the late seventies Since then it has been expanded into an important and exciting area of research Over the last two decades India neither participated actively nor did it contribute significantly towards the development in this field However recently a number of active research groups engaged in important research and developmental work have crystalized in different parts of India As a result their interaction with the international crypto community has become necessary With this backdrop it was proposed that a conference on cryptology INDOCRYPT be organized for the first time in India The Indian Statistical Institute was instrumental in hosting this conference INDOCRYPT has generated a large amount of enthusiasm amongst the Indians as well as the International crypto communities An INDOCRYPT steering committee has been formed and the committee has plans to make INDOCRYPT an annual event For INDOCRYPT 2000 the program committee considered a total of 54 papers and out of these 25 were selected for presentation The conference program also included two invited lectures by Prof Adi Shamir and Prof Eli Biham These proceedings include the revised versions of the 25 papers accepted by the program committee These papers were selected from all the submissions based on originality quality and relevance to the field of Cryptology Revisions were not checked and the authors bear the full responsibility for the contents of the papers in these proceedings

Defining and Assessing Lexical Proficiency Agnieszka Leńko-Szymańska, 2019-11-05 This comprehensive account of performance based assessment of L2 lexical proficiency analyzes and compares two of the primary methods of evaluation used in the field and unpacks the ways in which they tap into different dimensions of one model of lexical competence and proficiency This book builds on the latest research on performance based assessment which has most recently pointed to the application of more quantitative measures to L2 data to systematically explore the qualitative method of using human raters in assessment exercises and the quantitative method of using automatic computation of statistical measures of lexis and phraseology Supported by an up to date review of the existing literature both approaches unique features are highlighted but also compared to one another to provide a holistic overview of performance based assessment as it stands today at both the theoretical and empirical level These findings are exemplified in a concluding chapter which summarizes results from an empirical study looking at a range of lexical and phraseological features and human raters scores of over 150 essays written by both L2 learners of English and native speakers Taken together the volume challenges existing tendencies within the field which attempt to use one method to validate one another by demonstrating their capacity to indicate very different elements of lexical proficiency thereby offering a means by which to better conceptualize performance based assessment of L2 vocabulary in the future This book will be of interest to students and researchers working in second language acquisition and applied linguistics research particularly those interested in issues around assessment vocabulary acquisition and language proficiency The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a CC BY NC ND 4.0 license
