FEFLOW Hans-Jörg G. Diersch, 2013-11-22 FEFLOW is an acronym of Finite Element subsurface FLOW simulation system and solves the governing flow mass and heat transport equations in porous and fractured media by a multidimensional finite element method for complex geometric and parametric situations including variable fluid density variable saturation free surface s multispecies reaction kinetics non isothermal flow and multidiffusive effects FEFLOW comprises theoretical work modeling experiences and simulation practice from a period of about 40 years In this light the main objective of the present book is to share this achieved level of modeling with all required details of the physical and numerical background with the reader The book is intended to put advanced theoretical and numerical methods into the hands of modeling practitioners and scientists It starts with a more general theory for all relevant flow and transport phenomena on the basis of the continuum approach systematically develops the basic framework for important classes of problems e g multiphase multispecies non isothermal flow and transport phenomena discrete features aquifer averaged equations geothermal processes introduces finite element techniques for solving the basic balance equations in detail discusses advanced numerical algorithms for the resulting nonlinear and linear problems and completes with a number of benchmarks applications and exercises to illustrate the different types of problems and ways to tackle them successfully e g flow and seepage problems unsaturated saturated flow advective diffusion transport saltwater intrusion geothermal and thermohaline flow Soil Hydrology, Land Use and Agriculture Manoj Shukla, 2011 Agriculture is strongly affected by changes in soil hydrology as well as changes in land use and management practices and the complex interactions between them This book develops an understanding of these interactions on a watershed scale using soil hydrology models and addresses the consequences of land use and management changes on agriculture from a research perspective Case studies illustrate the impact of land use and management on various soil hydrological parameters under different climates and ecosystems Popular Photography , 1994-02 Mergent OTC Industrial Manual , 2003 Geoinformatics and Atmospheric Science Tomasz Niedzielski, Krzysztof Migala, 2017-09-09 This volume presents recent developments in atmospheric sciences driven by numerical modeling which makes use of geospatial technologies and increasing computational power It gathers examples of how geoinformatics supports meteorological climatological and water related studies One of the most important features of geospatial technologies is that they provide methods and tools which may be utilized in real time or near real time in order to monitor and predict atmospheric processes This is particularly crucial in areas where dynamics of atmospheric phenomena is considerable and causes difficulties in accurate forecasting One of such areas is the transitional zone between oceanic and continental features of the mid latitude climate Good examples of investigations into the transitional zone come from Poland and its neighboring countries The topical volume provides the reader with a selection of papers on physically based and data based modelling of weather related phenomena over Poland

This main theme of the topical volume is extended to cover case studies on the use of geoinformatics in atmospheric studies in other regions at a range of spatial scales Behavioural Modelling in Geography and Planning Reginald G. Golledge, H. J. P. Timmermans, 1988 This book presents much new research and thinking in the field of behavioural modelling It covers a wide range of topics and themes in different branches of the subject Subject Guide to Books in Print ,1971
