Plant and Soil Interfaces and Interactions A. van Diest, A. Houwers, 2012-12-06 Forty years ago when PLANT AND SOIL first appeared Europe was still recovering from the devastating effects of World War II. During the war years work in many centres of agricultural research had come to a virtual standstill. Buildings and equipment were destroyed scientists were often forced to terminate their research and teaching activities and funds allocated to such work were diverted to other at that time more pressing needs. During the first post war years reconstruction was undertaken with great zeal and in that light the founding of the new journal PLANT AND SOIL must be viewed. In the pre war period most agricultural science journals were still primarily national ones and consequently many articles were published in languages mastered by only a limited number of potential readers. In small countries whose languages are not widely understood the desire arose to publish research findings in one of the major languages. It is therefore understandable that in the early years of the journal's existence large portions of PLANT AND SOIL were filled with articles from the Scandinavian countries and The Netherlands. Originally rather frequent use was made of the opportunity to publish also in German and French but with the advance of English as a major language of communication a decline was noticeable in the number of German and French manuscripts submitted. As a consequence the Editorial Board has recently decided to terminate the publishing of articles in these languages.

Financial Cryptography and Data Security Roger Dingledine, Philippe Golle, 2009-07-21 This volume contains the proceedings of the 13th International Conference on Financial Cryptography and Data Security held at the Accra Beach Hotel and Resort Barbados February 23-26 2009. Financial Cryptography and Data Security FC is a well-established international forum for research, advanced development, education, exploration, and debate regarding information assurance in the context of finance and commerce. The conference covers all aspects of securing transactions and systems. The goal of FC is to bring security and cryptography researchers and practitioners together with economists, bankers, and policy makers. This year we assembled a vibrant program featuring 21 peer-reviewed research papers, presentations, two panels on the economics of information security, and one authentication and a keynote address by David Dagon. Despite a proliferation of security and cryptography venues, FC continues to receive a large number of high-quality submissions. This year we received 91 submissions: 75 full-length papers, 15 short papers, and 1 panel. Each submission was reviewed by at least three reviewers. Following a rigorous selection, ranking, and discussion process, the Program Committee accepted 20 full-length papers, 1 short paper, and 1 panel. The overall acceptance rate was 24%.

Compares older methods still frequently used with recently developed protocols and examines future trends. The book covers the physical, chemical, and other relevant properties of various substances found in
