The device compares with part 11 of the TSCM Suite. Function is defined in the following key conditions: (1) the device is used to detect and identify intrusions, and (2) the device has several key functions: control, recording, comparison and key remote controlled operation.

As an organization, we've created our own way of working, with the goal of being a better place to work than any other. We're not just a company, we're a community. We're a place where people can grow, learn, and thrive. We're a place where people can make a difference. We're a place where people can be themselves. We're a place where people can be happy. We're a place where people can be successful. We're a place where people can be proud. We're a place where people can be part of something bigger than themselves. We're a place where people can be part of something that matters. We're a place where people can be part of something that's worth fighting for. We're a place where people can be part of something that's worth believing in. We're a place where people can be part of something that's worth living for. We're a place where people can be part of something that's worth dying for. We're a place where people can be part of something that's worth everything.
