ABSTRACT

The tendency of writing article and paper for both printed and online journals and books increases rapidly. The present paper discusses about the techniques of writing good research article. The author has traced the procedures and rule of making abstract of an article. The steps needed to make a good article have been analyzed. Research methodology based on analysis of review of literature and secondary sources have been adopted. The signification of the use of keywords in an abstract is studied under the study. The paper finds out that there are various methods of citing sources and each method has its own procedures for incorporating data in the references. The paper concludes that every good article must be free from plagiarism and if any portion of an intellectual thought is copied then that must be mentioned by sources of references.

INTRODUCTION

The Information and Communication Technology with its day by day changing mode of production of documents have ushered in a new era in the educational system. This leads to the development of research in the country and consequently, the volume of literature also increases enormously. The tendency of writing article and paper for both printed and online journals and books increases rapidly. It has become a more common scenario in the field of Education. There is a multitude of different types of articles, including news stories, features, editorial, profiles, instructional (how-to) articles, and so on. While each has specific qualities that are unique to its type, all articles share some common characteristics. From formulating and researching the author's idea of writing and editing his/her work, writing articles can give him a chance to share compelling and important information with readers. So the research scholars and academicians should think about the type of article that will best suit the points that they want to convey.

The scholar must do an in-depth, balanced review of the primary research literature relevant to the study chosen prior to designing and carrying out the experiments. This review helps the scholars to learn what is known about the topic that is being investigated and may avoid unnecessarily repeating work done by others. The primary and secondary sources are the heart of any research article. The scholars and academicians very much depend on journals, books (monographs, classic), research report, govt. publication, abstracts, and indexes and so on before writing any research article for a journal. Experience shows that many scholars copy big volume of a particular content at the time of writing a research paper. They are not aware of the plagiarism. Even they use quotations and thought content but they fail to use footnotes and endnotes, may be due to the lack of in-depth knowledge of using them. The author must have a strategy and plan before writing research article on a particular topic: what is the purpose, whether the selected journal has an impact factor

This latest edition is completely updated and more relevant than ever for clinicians, practitioners and students. This book was already a classic but the update makes it even more useful. From finding time to write, doing a short literature review and identifying scam journals, Rowena Murray provides an excellent, concise and accessible companion for writing academic journal papers which is appropriate for both students and working academics. Associate Professor Inger Mewburn, Director of Research Training, The Australian National University, Australia. Rowena Murray has approached publishing in a journal with scientific rigour. Following this book's recommendations will make it impossible to find a convincing excuse for failure to publish. She herself writes with a high level of artisanal skill; this book is fast-paced, stylish and highly readable. Her own extensive experience in supporting journal article writers tempers this book with the credibility of a seasoned veteran. Best of all, there is a wealth of wisdom here in advising on how to publish. Murray is also advising on how to live a satisfying life as a writer. Associate Professor Susan Carter, University of Auckland, New Zealand. In Writing for Academic Journals 4th edition, Rowena Murray's voice is direct, down to earth and wise. Drawing on a depth of practical experience as both published author and writing teacher, she conveys the message that yes, publishing in academic journals is demanding, but it's also very possible. And that once you are successful, there is still much to be learned from reading books like this one and hanging out with others in writing groups and workshops. To that end, the book is a trove of tips and techniques helpful to all who pursue the challenging craft of good academic writing. Barbara Grant, Associate Professor in the School of Critical Studies in Education at the University of Auckland, New Zealand, and author of Academic writing retreats: A facilitator's guide. Writing Your Journal Article in 12 Weeks Wendy Laura Belcher, 2009. Wendy Laura Belcher's Writing Your Journal Article in Twelve Weeks: A Guide to Academic Publishing Success is a revolutionary approach to enabling academic authors to overcome their anxieties and produce the publications that are essential to succeeding in their fields. Each week, readers learn a particular feature of strong articles and work on revising theirs accordingly. At the end of twelve weeks, they send their article to a journal. This invaluable resource is the only guide that focuses specifically on publishing humanities and social science journal articles. Back cover. How to Read Journal Articles in the Social Sciences Phillip Chong Ho Shon, 2012-03-19. Shon's writing is engaging and entertaining; he opens up the black box of academic reading and writing, explaining how to decode and critique formal scientific writing and systematically organize information gained from reading journal articles. Dr. Lorraine Whitmarsh, School of Psychology, University of Cardiff, UK. Once the reader has mastered Philip Shon's codes and applied them to texts, it will become increasingly impossible not to write and critique with integrity. I thoroughly recommend this book. Professor Helen Cowie, Faculty of Health and Medical Sciences, University of Surrey, UK. Many texts provide tips for successfully writing theses, dissertations and journal articles.
