Great War Modernists Lee M. Jenkins,2024-07-11 Taking 44 Mecklenburgh Square as the focal point and springboard for a critical group study of D H Lawrence H D and Richard Aldington this book offers a fresh perspective on the relationship of modernist biofiction and poetry to the literature of the First World War A group that Perdita Schaffner described as another Bloomsbury set the Mecklenburgh Square writers like the Bloomsbury Group proper lived in squares and loved in triangles in Dorothy Parker s famous formulation Geographically adjacent these sets intersected socially and at points in their aesthetics both practiced innovative forms of what may broadly be defined as life writing But demarcating the Mecklenburgh Square writers from the Bloomsbury Set the former had its origins in the transatlantic avant garde Lawrence H D Aldington and John Cournos were all associated with Imagism the poetic movement which instantiated Anglo American modernism Considered as a pro tem collective these four poets all of whom were also novelists and translators contest the binaries that still obtain between modernist and First World War writing This group study of Lawrence H D Aldington and Cournos tracks the transition of Imagism from a pre war mode to a war poetics which includes but is not confined to the trench lyric and it traces in the transtextual relations between the Mecklenburgh Square novels the traumatic imprint of the war on modernist life writing

Mark Gertler Mark Gertler,1982    Mark Gertler Sarah MacDougall,2002 This is the first biography of Gertler to be published for thirty years It reappraises an extraordinary artist a figure who fascinated his contemporaries His is for instance the sinister sculptor of D H Lawrence s Women in Love the dashing Byronic hero of Aldous Huxley s Crome Yellow and the egotistical writer of Katherine Mansfield s story Je ne parle pas francais Gertler achieved recognition early and was admired and encouraged by Walter Sickert Vanessa Bell Roger Fry and Henry Moore He was championed by the flamboyant Lady Ottoline Morrell and his magnificent haunting pictures were keenly collected Yet despite his apparent ease in London society he himself felt his Jewishness and working class background to be insuperable barriers and his artistic ambition gradually alienated him even from the people among whom he'd grown up He found no happiness and at the age of 47 he committed suicide A few weeks earlier he had had dinner with Virginia Woolf and had impressed her with his fanatical devotion to his art On hearing of his death she recorded in her diary that he had been perhaps too rigid too self centred too honest and too narrow to be content or happy But with his intellect and interest she asked why did the personal life become too painful That is one of the questions Sarah MacDougall explores in her life of this complex man whose powerful images like the Merry go round or the Creation of Eve have lost none of their disturbing eloquence
