My belief about myself as a learner when I entered the class was a positive one. I attended a college prep school for high school and went to Oregon State University last year. I had plenty of practice with different learning techniques and found what works well for me. I believe I'm more of a visual learner than an auditory learner. It is easier to see a powerpoint and retain the knowledge then listen to a lecture and have the same retention. Entering the class I thought I liked working in groups more than working individually on projects, but that has since changed. I think it is more beneficial to me to work alone because I can get more done. When I entered the class I believed that reading the material closer to the due date was a better idea because I may not remember what I had read if I didn't.

What I have discovered about myself, as a learner over the term is vast. I learned that I can read the material way in advance and just briefly skim over the text and remember just about everything, were as I thought reading closer was more beneficial. I also learned that working in groups really isn't my specialty. I prefer working by myself because I'm able to get a lot more done and not have to worry about other people forgetting their part of the project. I don't like having to worry about other people not following through. I also learned that looking at the daily record in advanced helped me

Research and Discussions in Critical Discourses and Remedies in Global Health Education Ashti A. Doobay-Persaud, Tracy L. Rabin, Tomlin Paul, Jessica Evert, Benedicta Ayiedu

Mensah, 2024-10-01. Global Health: a field of study, research and practice defined in 2009 with precursors in international health and development is currently reckoning with itself. The field has well intended goals emphasizing collaboration and dialogue between population health, public health, clinical care and other disciplines to address socioeconomic determinants of health and employing interdisciplinary approaches to address health inequities wherever they exist. Despite these lofty ideals, there are concerns that the field itself has historically served to reinforce rather than deconstruct colonialism and power imbalances. At this point in time, the field has evolved toward a vision of a community of practice between institutions across the income spectrum: HIC, LMIC, LIC, working in bidirectional and multidirectional ways to develop staff, staff space, systems and strategies to eliminate health disparities. However, with deeply rooted colonial assumptions, racism, elitism and other forms of bias underlying institutions and individuals' initiatives operating under the auspices of Global Health are all too often antithetical to the pursuit itself.

Social Work and Health Care Practice with Transgender and Nonbinary

Individuals and Communities Shanna K. Kattari, M. Killian Kinney, Leonardo Kattari, N. Eugene Walls, 2020-08-16. This book examines issues across the lifespan of transgender and nonbinary individuals whilst synthesizing conceptual work, empirical evidence, pedagogical content, educational experiences and the voices of transgender and nonbinary individuals. It highlights the resilience and resistance of transgender and nonbinary individuals and communities to challenge narratives relying on one-dimensional perspectives of risk and tragic lives. While there is currently unprecedented visibility and increasing support, members of these communities still face shockingly high rates of violence, victimization, unemployment, discrimination and family rejection. Significant need for services and support coupled with social, clinical and medical service systems ill equipped to provide culturally responsive care illustrates the critical need for quality education and training of educators, practitioners and service providers in best practices of working with members of the transgender and nonbinary community.
