

The socioautobiography also gives you the opportunity to place your life under the sociological microscope and apply the skills of sociological analysis. Try to understand who you are in your social context using a sociological perspective. As you write your story, use sociological concepts—such as social class, reference group, conformity, norm, role, deviance, subculture, and any others that are helpful—to interpret your life experiences.

You may want to focus on several events, special moments, or important relationships in your life that have impacted you in significant ways. Recall key themes, events, or circumstances that have contributed to the construction of your identity. You may want to discuss the importance of some of the following influences: significant others, family structure, residence (urban, suburban, rural), ethnicity, religion, social status, group memberships, economic status, leisure, work, death, and crisis. Regardless of which themes you discuss, be sure to interpret them with some of the sociological concepts that have been introduced throughout the book.

Questions like the following may be appropriate: how have social forces—groups, larger social trends, and cultural values—molded my behavior and world view? In what sense am I both a produce and producers of culture? How has my family background expanded or restricted my opportunities and life chances? How might I be different had I been born into another culture? What have been the most influential social forces in my life?

In crafting a socioautobiography, we have the opportunity to reflect on the construction of our self-identity. Only as we begin to understand how we have been socially created can we become fully empowered to act. Many of us go through life repeating patterns given to us by the faces in our mirror without realizing that we have the power to change those patterns in our

The Riddles of Human Society Conrad L. Kanagy, Donald B. Kraybill, 1999-01-27 Why are all U S Presidents white men Why does technology enchant us Why do some people commit suicide Why are sports so important to Americans How will the Internet change society Why do people do good This very teachable and short new introductory text explores these and other riddles to stir students sociological curiosity and promote active learning as the sure path toward mastering the fundamentals of the discipline Once again Pine Forge Press has done us Intro teachers a great service with The Riddles of Human Society The authors have produced a remarkable text designing it from the point of view of how students actually acquire sociological tools and imagination when reflecting on their social world It is written as a conversation with readers yet is organized with learning tools like chapter summaries discussion questions and an in text glossary It considers a broad range of topics from micro to macro levels thus uniquely blending the best of a shorter textbook and a monograph It will serve very well as a main text for introductory sociology courses I recommend it highly Stephen Sharkey Department of Social Science Alverno College Capture Life Nikki Hanna, 2012 Encyclopedia of Life Writing Margaretta Jolly, 2013-12-04 First published in 2001 This is the first substantial reference work in English on the various forms that constitute life writing As this term suggests the Encyclopedia explores not only autobiography and biography proper but also letters diaries memoirs family histories case histories and other ways in which individual lives have been recorded and structured It includes entries on genres and subgenres national and regional traditions from around the world and important auto biographical writers as well as articles on related areas such as oral history anthropology testimonies and the representation of life stories in non verbal art forms Writing Biography & Autobiography Brian D. Osborne, 2004 Many of us have wanted to write a life story but have been unsure how to set about it or how to bring such a project to completion Whether you are planning to write about your own family or research the life of a famous historical figure this book will assist advise and encourage you Encyclopedia of Life Writing Margaretta Jolly, 2017 How To Do Biography Nigel Hamilton, 2012-10-22 It is not surprising that biography is one of the most popular literary genres of our day What is remarkable is that there is no accessible guide for how to write one Now following his recent Biography A Brief History from Harvard award winning biographer and teacher Nigel Hamilton tackles the practicalities of doing biography in this first succinct primer to elucidate the tools of the biographer s craft Hamilton invites the reader to join him on a fascinating journey through the art of biographical composition Starting with personal motivation he charts the making of a modern biography from the inside from conception to fulfillment He emphasizes the need to know one s audience rehearses the excitement and perils of modern research delves into the secrets of good and great biography and guides the reader through the essential components of life narrative With examples taken from the finest modern biographies Hamilton shows how to portray the ages of man birth childhood love life s work the evening of life and death In addition he suggests effective ways to start and close a life story He clarifies the difference between autobiography and memoir and addresses the sometimes awkward ethical legal and personal consequences of truth telling in modern life writing He concludes with the publication and reception of biography its afterlife so to speak Written with humor insight and compassion How To Do Biography is the manual that would be biographers have long been awaiting Transculturating Auto/Biography Rosalia Baena,2013-10-18 Rosalia Baena s theoretically challenging analytical volume of essays explores the diversity of shapes that transcultural life writing takes demonstrating how it has become one of the most dynamic and productive literary forms of self inscription and self representation Expanding much of the contemporary criticism on life writing which tends to centre on content the essays highlight that reading contemporary forms of life writing from a literary perspective is a rich field of critical intervention that has been overlooked because of recent cultural studies concerns with material issues To read life writing as primarily cultural texts undercuts much of its value as a complex dynamic of cultural production where aesthetic concerns and the choice and manipulation of form serve as signifying aspects to experiences and subjectivities This book was previously published as a special issue of Prose Studies Writing Biography and Autobiography Brian D. Osborne,2004 Many of us have wanted to write a life storybut have been unsure how to set about it or how to bring such a project to completion Whether you are planning to write about your own family or research the life of a famous historical figure this book will assist advise and encourage you The author looks at all aspects of writing biography and autobiography including the reasons for biographical writing choosing your subject identifying your audience research methods organising the information and writing up your material There are also sections on legal issues copyright and finding a publisher Inscribed Identities Joan Ramon Resina,2019-01-22 Autobiography is a long established literary modality of self exposure with commanding works such as Augustine s Confessions Rousseau s book of the same title and Salvador Dal s paradoxical reformulation of that title in his Unspeakable Confessions Like all genres with a distinguished career autobiography has elicited a fair amount of critical and theoretical reflection Classic works by Kate Hamburger and Philippe Lejeune in the 1960s and 70s articulated distinctions and similarities between fiction and the genre of personal declaration Especially since Foucault s seminal essay on Self Writing self production through writing has become more versatile gaining a broader range of expression diversifying its social function and colonizing new media of representation For this reason it seems appropriate to speak of life writing as a concept that includes but is not limited to classic autobiography Awareness of language s performativity permits us to read life writing texts not as a record but as the space where the self is realized or in some instances de realized Such texts can build identity but they can also contest ascribed identity by producing alternative or disjointed scenarios of identification And they not only relate to the present but may also act upon the past by virtue of their retrospective effects in the confluence of narrator and witness The Arvon Book of Life Writing Sally Cline,Carole Angier,2010-04-01 Fascinating wide ranging hugely knowledgeable an indispensable guide and a beguiling education William Boyd Packed with insights and advice just the inspiration to start writing Jenny Uglow Everyone has a story This book shows how the best writers tell them and offers advice on how to tell them yourself Biographers Sally Cline and Carole Angier teach life writing an area of creative writing that is exploding in popularity at the world famous Arvon Foundation They have distilled the essence of their popular course on memoir autobiography and biography into this wide ranging book The Arvon Book of Life Writing offers three fascinating ways into the genre First reflections on their trade by the authors exploring its special challenges truth memory ethics evidence and interpretation Second personal tips and tales from 32 top British and American life writers autobiographers and memoirists literary sports and celebrity biographers plus a critic an agent a literary editor two novelists and a ghost writer Third a practical guide complete with exercises designed for use in creative writing courses or by individual writers at home
