BACKGROUND INFORMATION

What is breathing?

Breathing is the process that moves air in and out of the body (lungs). It enables oxygen to enter the body and carbon dioxide to be expelled.

Why is breathing so necessary for life?

The oxygen in the air is needed for the oxidation of food to release energy during respiration. This energy is used to perform the work needed to keep cells and organisms alive. Carbon dioxide is released during respiration and must be expelled, otherwise it will lower the pH of body fluids.

What is gaseous exchange?

There is an exchange of gases in the lungs. When we breath in, oxygen in the inhaled air in the lungs diffuses into the blood from the alveoli. Carbon dioxide diffuses from the blood into the alveoli and is breathed out.

What is the breathing mechanism?

The breathing mechanism allows for pulmonary ventilation, commonly known as 'breathing'. This is the process of moving air into and out of the lungs. Air flows into the lungs during inspiration (inhalation) and out of the lungs during expiration (exhalation). Air flows because of pressure differences between the atmosphere and the gases inside the lungs.

The Indian National Bibliography, 2017-10 Love is Green: Compassion as responsibility in the ecological emergency

Lucy Weir, 2020-01-31 This book links three themes non dualistic agency the good of systems and compassionate attunement and relates them to the ecological emergency The author begins by examining how we currently understand our ability to choose what we do our agency and conclude that this is dualistic we think of an action to do and then we physically act Yet an understanding that we are enmeshed in context means our capacity to act freely dissolves in the mesh We evolved capacities for consciousness and awareness capacities that allow us to realise that we are here now but that do not inevitably imply choice Our capacity for realisation gives us the ability to elicit an emotional response When we understand our enmeshment we can attune to a deep compassion for ourselves and indeed for all systems unfolding through time Compassionate attunement allows a different set of options for action to become available to us This then shifts how we respond to ourselves our human relationships and to the ecological emergency we are currently embroiled in This work is inspired by the great Kamakura Zen Master Eihei D gen The book s contribution is to extend and link the notion of practice realisation with the literature on evolutionary biology and entropy maximisation which allows us to speak of the good of systems Systems unfold as good for us when biodiversity maximisation occurs By considering the ecological emergency in light of compassionate attunement we open ourselves to a new array of possibilities for action Some of these the author outlines in the conclusion relating them to existing literature on compassionate achievement and compassionate communication to show how our this practice shifts our relationship to ourselves to one another and to the ecological emergency thus changing the course of human history Indian National Bibliography B. Morehead,Brandon C. Benziger,2020-04-07 Evangelicals and other conservative Christians of the twenty first century face enormous challenges in the pluralistic public square not least with Muslims and atheists Contrary to biblical injunctions to keep in step with the Spirit Gal 5 25b and to love our neighbors as ourselves e g Matt 22 37 40 Luke 10 25 37 both of which involve not only behavioral but also important affective elements we often harbor deep seated antipathies toward atheists and adherents of other religions While such feelings are at times justified and help us cope with conflict related tragedies they are also often baseless misconstrued and counterproductive

priming us to avoid religious others support discriminatory policies against them and even confront them in verbal or physical ways The purpose of this volume is to offer an academically informed yet practically oriented collection of essays that challenges and encourages Christians to engage their religious neighbors in a much more loving compassionate hopeful and courageous indeed orthopathic manner whether in the realm of politics in debate and conference venues on the mission field or in their own homes schools churches and neighborhoods As such a set of reflection and discussion questions is included to facilitate individual and or group study

The Visual Life of Climate Change Saffron O'Neill, 2025-12-08
Available open access digitally under CC BY NC ND licence Images can play a key role in communication but climate change imagery can be formulaic and narrow in perspective Going beyond polar bears and wildfires this book is a manifesto for opening up the visual discourse on climate Rather than portraying scenarios that can be remote from many people s lives Saffron O'Neill shows how images can be powerful tools to engage viewers and enable them to connect different issues together With engaging case studies and practical advice throughout the book shows how visuals can represent climate change in more diverse equitable inclusive and responsible ways
