The Author Training

Manual Nina Amir, 2014-03-18 If you want to write a book that's going to sell to both publishers and readers you need to know how to produce a marketable work and help it become successful. It starts the moment you have an idea. That's when you begin thinking about the first elements of the business plan that will make your project the best it can be. The reality is that you don't want to spend time and energy writing a book that will never get read. The way to avoid that is to create a business plan for your book and evaluate it and yourself through the same lens that an agent or acquisitions editor would. The Author Training Manual will show you how to get more creative and start looking at your work with those high standards in mind. Whether you're writing fiction or non-fiction or intend to publish traditionally or self-publish, author Nina Amir will teach you how to conduct an effective competitive analysis for your work and do a better job at delivering the goods to readers than similar books that are already on the shelf. Packed with step-by-step instructions, idea evaluations, sample business plans, editor and agent commentaries, and much more, The Author Training Manual provides the information you need to transform from aspiring writer to career author.

The Routledge

Handbook of Magazine Research David Abrahamson, Marcia R. Prior-Miller, 2015-06-05 Scholarly engagement with the magazine form has in the last two decades produced a substantial amount of valuable research. Authored by leading academic authorities in the study of magazines, the chapters in The Routledge Handbook of Magazine Research not only create an architecture to organize and archive the developing field of magazine research but also suggest new avenues of future investigation. Each of 33 chapters surveys the last 20 years of scholarship in its subject area, identifying the major research themes, theoretical developments, and interpretive breakthroughs. Exploration of the digital challenges and opportunities which currently face the magazine world are woven throughout, offering readers a deeper understanding of the magazine form as well as of the sociocultural realities it both mirrors and influences. The book includes six sections: Methodologies and structures; presents theories and models for magazine research in an evolving global context; Magazine publishing: the people and the work; introduces the roles and practices of those involved in the editorial and business sides of magazine publishing; Magazines as textual communication; surveys the field of contemporary magazines across a range of theoretical perspectives; subjects, genre, and format; questions Magazines as visual communication; explores cover design, photography, illustrations, and interactivity; Pedagogical and curricular perspectives; offers insights on undergraduate and graduate teaching topics in magazine research; The future of the magazine form; speculates on the changing nature of magazine research via its environmental effects, audience, and transforming platforms.
